NCS: key messages

- Human rights based approaches
- Role of the third sector
- Data collection

Role of the third sector

- Support and work directly with third and independent health and social care organisations as equal and valued partners, resourced by sustainable, ongoing and secure funding.
- Reform commissioning and procurement processes.
- Value and fund independent advocacy and independent support and advice orgs.

Data gathering and analysis

Disaggregated data gathering and intersectional analysis are essential to ensuring equitable access to social care.

Without good data, you cannot effectively follow human rights principles of equality, non-discrimination, participation and inclusion.
